

UF Online Advising Group Meeting 3/13/14

Information Items:

1. Due to changes in personnel, effective immediately, Associate Provost Andy McCollough will become responsible for the administration of UF Online. Consequently, issues related to this program should be directed to his attention. – UF Administrative Memo, Joe Glover, 3/11/14.
2. Florida Senate Passes Florida GI Bill (<http://flsenate.gov/Media/PressReleases/Show/1734>), which states:

“The GI Bill creates the Congressman C.W. Bill Young Veteran Tuition Waiver Program which directs state universities, state colleges, career centers, and technical centers to waive out-of-state tuition fees for honorably discharged veterans. Tuition and fees charged to an out-of-state student veteran may not exceed the tuition and fees charged to a resident student.”

How will this work with UFO? Will veterans qualify for in-state UFO tuition?

3. Emergency Contact Holds vs. Local Address Holds
According to the rules of the emergency contact holds, the university has informed students that the ONLY time the information provided will be used is to contact the student in the case of an emergency. Because of this, the university needed another way to obtain the local address for accurate directory information, and thus the new local address hold. -- Paraphrased from a discussion with the Office of the University Registrar.
